

DOGMA

SEED

It's so strange
The way everything breaks when the will is gone

So noble thoughts
That start to rot as the speaker says:

"I've got a sight.
All of us have won a second life.
Any other word is just a lie.
Stand by me and you will never ever die"

Such a strong
Power to hold for a mortal man
May I guess,
It's easier to cheat and to control?

Do you really think
Man is just a fool that needs a grip,
To avoid the nonsense and the sin,
Even at the expense of his humanity?

Won't you tell me, would you tell me now
Which is the worst
Sin of them all
Against freedom
Against the soul?
